Inspirage Enterprise Value Chain Assessment and Advisory Service

Quickly identify how to improve the overall performance of your supply chain

Studies have shown that many companies are not getting the necessary performance or ROI across their value chain. In most cases this is due to business process gaps and synchronization challenges, insufficient collaboration, lack of adequate training, suboptimal deployment of technology and a functional focus vs. a focus on Value Chain excellence.

With Inspirage's Enterprise Value Assessment (EVA), you can:

- Benchmark your company performance against industry
- Quickly identify how to improve the overall performance of your supply chain
- Determine how Oracle Value Chain applications can be adapted to support business processes
- Prepare your company to embark on process improvements and/or implementation
- Present viable options to undertake a process improvement
